Dr. Michael Mikota

Under the leadership of SCC President Dr. Michael Mikota, the college is transforming higher education in our region, state, and beyond. Spartanburg Community College serves as a comprehensive nexus between higher education and the regional economy. Thanks to a robust array of degree and certificate programs, as well as unique assets like the SPARK Center—which has had a $39.6 billion impact on the economy of South Carolina since 2007—SCC not only promises to support our community but does so every single day.
